FUND MANAGER COMMENTARY

Equity markets performed well through April as they recovered from March lows. Risk sentiment improved with increasing evidence that the curve of the infection rates for the coronavirus virus are progressively peaking. This is encouraging news though there remains a high degree of uncertainty as lockdowns begin to be relaxed globally.

For UK equity markets, we saw a broad continuation of good returns for defensives, structural winners and momentum. At the size level, Mid-caps found favour at the expense of Large caps. Corporate earnings season has been no worse than feared, though has less relevance given economic damage is likely to accelerate through Q2. Elsewhere, the oil price volatility has been extraordinary, with fears of a global glut driven by slumping demand and capacity constraints.

The L&G Growth Trust rebounded very strongly in April as it delivered a positive return of 22.9%. This was mostly driven by stock selection in both consumer sectors, though there were also sizeable gains within support services and our chemicals exposure. On positioning, the zero exposure to energy and utilities added value. The only notable negative was the underweight in healthcare, as the sector continues to perform well. At the stock level, leading outperformers were ASOS, Boohoo, Fever-tree, Ocado Group, Just Eat Takeaway, Rentokil and Ashtead. In respect of trading activity, we introduced a new position in Croda, which has a degree of resilience from its product portfolio and providers exposure to several consumer growth themes. On the flipside, we exited Weir Group.

KEY RISKS

- The value of an investment and any income taken from it is not guaranteed and can go down as well as up; you may not get back the amount you originally invested.
- The return from this fund is dependent on relatively few individual investments. This means that a fall in the value of an individual investment can have a major impact on the overall performance of the fund.
- The fund could lose money if any institution providing services such as acting as counterparty to derivatives or other instruments, becomes unwilling or unable to meet its obligations to the fund.
- Derivatives are highly sensitive to changes in the value of the asset on which they are based and can increase the size of losses and gains.
- The fund may have underlying investments that are valued in currencies that are different from sterling (British pounds). Exchange rate fluctuations will impact the value of your investment. Currency hedging techniques may be applied to reduce this impact but may not entirely eliminate it.
