Investment Objective and Policy

The aim of the Sub-fund is to provide a combination of income and capital growth, and to keep the Sub-fund within a pre-determined risk profile. While this will be the Sub-fund's focus, it will have a bias towards assets that pay a higher income. The Sub-fund's potential gains and losses are likely to be constrained by the aim to stay within its particular risk profile.

The Sub-fund will have exposure to equities, fixed income securities (both government and non-government), cash and property. The Sub-fund will have a bias towards equities.

To obtain this exposure, the Sub-fund will invest at least 75% in collective investment schemes, which may also provide an indirect exposure to money market instruments, deposits, near cash and alternative asset classes (such as commodities). The Sub-fund will mainly invest at least 50% in Index tracker schemes which are operated by Legal & General.

The Sub-fund may also invest directly in transferable securities (equity securities and fixed income securities), money market instruments, deposits, and cash and near cash. The Sub-fund may use derivatives for efficient portfolio management purposes only.

The Sub-fund's risk profile is managed by restricting the types of assets held and the allocations of each asset type. The asset and allocation restrictions are set with reference to research carried out by an external agency and are based on the long term historic returns and volatility of each asset type. This external agency has determined risk bands ranging between1 to 10, with 10 being the highest. This Sub-fund aims to stay within band 6.

Risk Profile

Credit risk
This Sub-fund invests in Collective Investment Schemes which hold financial securities such as bonds. With these investments, there is a risk of suffering loss due to a party not meeting its financial obligations. This risk is managed by monitoring the financial stability of investments and companies, via credit ratings.

Market risk
Market risk arises mainly from uncertainty about future prices. It represents the potential loss the Sub-fund may suffer through holding market positions in the face of market movements. The Manager adheres to the investment guidelines and in this way, monitors and controls the exposure to risk from any type of security, sector or issuer.

Interest rate risk
This Sub-fund is invested in interest distributing funds. The performance of the Sub-fund may therefore be affected by changes in interest rates, through its holdings in these funds.

Currency risk
This Sub-fund is invested in Collective Investment Schemes which may invest in overseas financial securities. The performance of the Sub-fund may therefore be affected by changes in exchange rates. This risk is managed by the use of foreign currency futures, which aim to manage the effect of changing exchange rates.

Period End Dates for Distributions:	15 of each month, 15 Aug (Final)
Distribution Dates:	14 of each month, 14 Sept (Final)
Ongoing Charges Figures:	15 Feb 18	15 Aug 17
R-Class	0.84%	0.85%
I-Class	0.39%	0.40%
C-Class	0.32%	0.33%
L-Class	0.14%	0.15%

The Ongoing Charges Figure (OCF) is the ratio of the Sub-fund's total discloseable costs (excluding overdraft interest) and all costs suffered through holdings in underlying Collective Investment Schemes, to the average net assets of the Sub-fund.

The OCF is intended to provide a reliable figure which gives the most accurate measure of what it costs to invest in a fund and is calculated based on the last period's figures.

Risk and Reward Profile

Lower risk						Higher risk
Potentially lower rewards						Potentially higher rewards
1	2	3	4	5	6	7

- This risk and reward profile is based on historical data which may not be a reliable indication of the Sub-fund's risk and reward category in the future.
- The category number highlighted above reflects the rate at which the Sub-fund's unit price has moved up and down in the past. If the Sub-fund has less than five years' track record, the number also reflects the rate at which a representative mix of the underlying funds has moved up and down in the past. Higher numbers mean the potential reward could be greater, but this comes with increased risk of losing money.
- The Sub-fund is in category four because the mix of different asset types in which the Sub-fund invests has a balancing effect on the rate at which the Sub-fund share price moves up and down. This type of sub-fund is generally considered to be higher risk than one investing only in bonds and lower risk than one investing only in company shares.
- The Sub-fund's category is not guaranteed to remain the same and may change over time.
- Even a fund in the lowest category is not a risk free investment.

The Sub-fund targets risk profile six as calculated by Distribution Technology. They are an independent agency who provide risk profiling tools to advisers and fund managers.

The Risk and Reward profile scale above is calculated differently to the Distribution Technology Risk Profiles. The Distribution Technology profiles range from 1 to 10 with 10 being the highest (rather than a scale of 1 to 7 for the Risk and Reward profile).

More information on the Distribution Technology risk profiles is shown in the Prospectus. Alternatively you can contact us with any queries.

Market/Economic Review

Globally, equity markets have made further gains over the review period, reflecting a steady improvement in global economic indicators and earnings growth that has exceeded expectations. February 2018 was punctuated by the largest sell-off in global assets since August 2015, although market volatility was short-lived. Investors have favoured technology stocks in anticipation of an upturn in the semiconductor industry, while earnings announcements from the major technology companies, particularly in the US, have also been encouraging. Mining stocks have performed well as commodity markets rallied, while energy stocks also outperformed as the oil price climbed to a three-year high above $70 per barrel in January. In contrast, utilities, real estate and telecoms, sectors more sensitive to bond markets, underperformed. US equities ended the review period at an all-time high, boosted by congressional approval for the Trump administration's tax reforms which included a substantial cut in corporation tax. The UK equity market ended 2017 on a positive note, as progress in Brexit negotiations with the European Union underpinned investor confidence, before faltering in January underperforming international markets over the review period. Japan was the leading major market in Sterling terms. Investors reacted favourably to a resounding victory for incumbent Prime Minister Shinzo Abe in the general election, which was viewed as heralding further economic reforms. Asian equity markets advanced as the strong global backdrop has boosted the region's export-driven economies. In Europe, although corporate results have highlighted improving earnings momentum and indicators suggest regional economic activity is accelerating, markets trailed the World Index as political concerns resurfaced. Talks to form a coalition government in Germany have been protracted, while in Spain regional elections in Catalonia failed to resolve the independence issue. More broadly, emerging markets have outperformed developed markets supported by the improving global economic backdrop and underlying corporate earnings growth.

The major international bond markets have struggled to make headway as central banks began to embark on withdrawing the extraordinary monetary support that has been in place since the global financial crisis. With global economic growth accelerating, expectations of rising inflation have also weakened bond markets. The US Federal Reserve (Fed) sanctioned a gradual tightening of monetary policy, raising interest rates to 1.5% in December, while signalling three further rate hikes in 2018. The Fed also began unwinding its asset purchase programme, known as quantitative easing (QE), in October. Although the European Central Bank (ECB) announced it would taper its QE programme from January, the ECB commented it stood ready to extend quantitative easing beyond next September if necessary. The Bank of Japan's (BOJ) negative interest rate policy, and its announcement that it will intervene if necessary to keep the yield on benchmark 10-year bonds at around 0%, underpinned Japanese government bonds. Index-linked gilts outperformed conventional securities over the review period, as the consumer price index accelerated to its highest level for over five years, with the depreciation in Sterling following the EU referendum reflected in higher import prices. The Bank of England increased interest rates to 0.5% in November, removing the emergency support announced in August 2016 in the wake of the EU referendum. The Sterling-denominated corporate bond market saw an upsurge in issuance during 2017 although returns have been modest. Emerging bond markets outperformed the major sovereign bond markets by a substantial margin. International investors have sought higher returns with new sovereign issues in countries as diverse as Egypt, Russia and Argentina oversubscribed.

Fund Review

The Sub-fund delivered a negative return over the review period, which was characterised by broadly positive market sentiment that came to an abrupt end in February. Most equity markets moved higher in 2017 and into 2018, led by more cyclical sectors. However, volatility spiked towards the end of the period amid concerns US interest rates could rise more rapidly than forecast.

Negative performance was partly due to the impact of rising bond yields on fixed income assets. Our holdings in UK credit, global credit and global linkers all detracted from the overall Sub-fund performance. Our position in UK equities, a strong contributor to performance in 2017, was the main detractor in the beginning of 2018, but this was somewhat offset by our exposure to emerging market and European equities. Our holdings in REITS and infrastructure proxies were also a drag on performance, due to their higher sensitivity to rising interest rates.

In terms of allocation changes, the beginning of the period saw us reduce our UK gilt and credit holdings in favour of equities. In the last quarter of 2017 we adjusted our mid-risk assets exposure by increasing the weight of local currency emerging market debt, also adding to hard currency emerging market debt at the start of 2018. As spreads on direct bonds narrowed in January, we took the opportunity to sell our holding in Croatian and Turkish Euro-denominated bonds.

Outlook

Recent months have seen synchronised economic recovery but only subdued inflation. Although this is consistent with mid-economic cycle dynamics, rising inflation would start to push us towards late cycle. We do not see a recession as imminent but remain vigilant as we inch closer. Inflationary pressures are being stoked by lower unemployment, President Trump's tax plan and protectionism, while global growth remains strong. The recent US Employment Report supported the case that inflation could be heading higher, leading to significant stock market volatility.

Meanwhile, Sterling has proved to be the financial market most clearly linked to sentiment about Brexit. Against an average of the US Dollar, the Euro and the Japanese Yen, Sterling is now back to levels last seen very early on the morning of 24 June 2016, in contrast to those seen at the peak of fear in October 2016.

EU Savings Directive

The Sub-fund has been reviewed against the requirements of the Directive 2003/48/EC on Taxation of savings in the form of interest payments (ESD), following the HM Revenue & Customs debt investment reporting guidance notes.

Under the directive, information is collected about the payment of distributions to residents in certain other countries and is reported to HM Revenue & Customs to be exchanged with Tax authorities in those countries.

The Sub-fund falls within the 25% debt investment reporting threshold. This means that details of all distributions and redemption proceeds paid to non UK investors will be reported by Legal & General (Unit Trust Managers) Limited to HM Revenue & Customs to be exchanged with the relevant Tax authorities.

Dual Pricing Arrangement

The Manager's fixed dual pricing arrangement has a set spread to account for the costs of transacting in a particular Sub-fund. Where the Manager operates a box through which unit subscriptions and unit redemptions are netted into a single trade instruction to the Trustee, the netting reduces the actual transaction costs and this generates a revenue to the Manager. The revenue generated from this activity is calculated on a monthly basis and returned to the Sub-fund in the form of a payment from the Manager. This provides an enhanced return to the Sub-fund, through the size of any return will be dependent on the size of subscriptions and redemptions.

Minimum Investment Amounts

The minimum initial lump sum investment amounts for each class are as follows:

R-Class	£500
I-Class	£1,000,000
C-Class	£100,000,000
L-Class	£500,000

In addition, monthly contributions can be made into the R-Class with a minimum amount of £50 per month.

C-Class units are only available to distributors who actively market and distribute such units (or whom the Manager believes intends to do so) and to whom the Manager has confirmed by letter that they meet the criteria for investment in such units.

L-Class is not available to retail customers and is intended only for investment by Legal & General group companies.
