FUND MANAGER COMMENTARY

Equity markets kicked on during October, seemingly happy to climb the wall of worry and test all-time highs. The monetary policy backdrop has however become less supportive for risk assets, with growing realisation from central banks that perhaps not all inflationary pressures in play will be that transitory, while supply chain headwinds show little sign of abating any time soon. For corporate earnings, while it may not feel it on the ground, it's been a decent quarter with momentum turning more positive.

Turning to equity performance, market leadership changed through October with some big differences at the sector level by region. Despite outperforming in September, the UK benchmarks failed to keep pace with gains elsewhere. Banks enjoyed a strong month, while Utilities and Healthcare also outperformed. Conversely, SMID caps found life tougher going, with both Consumer-facing groups and Tech names struggling, and Housebuilders also lagged.

The L&G Growth Trust underperformed its benchmark by 150bps in the period. On sector allocation, the underweight to Financials (Banks), Healthcare and Utilities cost 70bps relative performance. While the overweight to Tech and Consumer Discretionary was also unhelpful given the negative sector relative return. Stock selection was more mixed, with gains in Materials offset by weakness from Telecoms and Retail. Top stock contributors were Ceres Power, Croda, Ocado Group, Ashtead and Tritax Big Box. The largest detractors were Alphawave, Helios Towers, Boohoo Group and Network International. There was no significant new trading activity.

KEY RISKS

- The value of an investment and any income taken from it is not guaranteed and can go down as well as up; you may not get back the amount you originally invested.
- The return from this fund is dependent on relatively few individual investments. This means that a fall in the value of an individual investment can have a major impact on the overall performance of the fund.
- The fund could lose money if any institution providing services such as acting as counterparty to derivatives or other instruments, becomes unwilling or unable to meet its obligations to the fund.
- Derivatives are highly sensitive to changes in the value of the asset on which they are based and can increase the size of losses and gains.
- The fund may have underlying investments that are valued in currencies that are different from sterling (British pounds). Exchange rate fluctuations will impact the value of your investment. Currency hedging techniques may be applied to reduce this impact but may not entirely eliminate it.
