FUND AIM

The objective of this Fund is to provide growth above that of the FTSE All Share TR Net Index, the "Benchmark Index". The Fund aims to outperform the Benchmark Index by 3% per annum before charges, over rolling three year periods.

RISK AND REWARD PROFILE

Lower risk Potentially lower rewards Potentially higher rewards Higher risk

The synthetic risk and reward indicator (SRRI) is based on the historic volatility of the fund's value and it may change in the future.

The fund is in category 5 because it invests in company shares which are sensitive to variations in the stock market. The value of company shares can change substantially over short periods of time.

For more information, please refer to the Key Risks section on page 3.

FUND MANAGER COMMENTARY

December confirmed the strong performance of global equities in 2019. The biggest market event was seen in the UK, where the general election outcome was favourable for domestic-focused equities, as Boris Johnson’s Conservative party won by a clear majority.

Elsewhere, markets also benefited from the reaction to the latest announcement of a phase 1 agreement between the US-China, as tensions moderated over the trade deal. Meanwhile, economic data continues to hold out. Finally, the Bank of England and Fed opted to keep central bank policy rates on hold. The Fed signalled they would likely remain so through 2020.

In respect of equity market performance, style factors continue to deviate regionally, though the Q4 rebound for Cyclical and Financials in the UK continued. Miners also enjoyed a better month. By size, Large-caps were weak on a relative basis, given mid and small-cap gearing to Brexit positivity. Value once more advanced, though Quality also fared well.

The L&G UK Select Equity fund delivered a return of 3.0%, which represented small underperformance against a strong benchmark. Sector allocation was negative, as the underweight in Financials and Miners proved unhelpful to performance. On the flipside, we saw stock selection make a positive contribution, led by gains in Telecoms and Consumer Services. At the stock level, the biggest positive contributor was Helios Towers, Watches of Switzerland, Just Eat and Carnival. TUI Group and RWS Holdings were the biggest detractors. There was no new trading activity.

GAVIN LAUNDER

Gavin joined LGIM in 2007 and has been the Fund Manager for the UK Select Equity Fund since June 2018. Previously, he was a Global Equities Analyst at BlueBay Asset Management. Gavin spent the majority of his buy-side career as a Portfolio Manager with UBS O’Connor. Prior to this, he was a top-rated, sell-side analyst covering the Autos, Capital Goods and Conglomerates sectors at investment banks including SG Warburg (now part of UBS) and Goldman Sachs. Gavin holds a degree in Philosophy and Economics from University College, London.

KEY RISKS

- The value of an investment and any income taken from it is not guaranteed and can go down as well as up; you may not get back the amount you originally invested.
- The return from this fund is dependent on relatively few individual investments. This means that a fall in the value of an individual investment can have a major impact on the overall performance of the fund.
- The fund could lose money if any institution providing services such as acting as counterparty to derivatives or other instruments, becomes unwilling or unable to meet its obligations to the fund.
- Derivatives are highly sensitive to changes in the value of the asset on which they are based and can increase the size of losses and gains.
- The fund may have underlying investments that are valued in currencies that are different from sterling (British pounds). Exchange rate fluctuations will impact the value of your investment. Currency hedging techniques may be applied to reduce this impact but may not entirely eliminate it.
