FUND MANAGER COMMENTARY

The UK equity market continued its recent upward trend in December. Although somewhat less dramatic than the previous month's movements, markets were in a favourable mood ahead of the festive holiday period. On the news front, the market reacted positively to the UK and EU finally agreeing a trade deal, over four and a half years after the Brexit referendum result. Elsewhere, the roll out of the Pfizer vaccine commenced, along with the news that the UK has also approved the Oxford/AstraZeneca vaccine for use. The next few months will be critical, with coronavirus cases currently rising sharply, bringing expectations of further lockdown measures. For sector performance, we saw the more cyclical areas such as Basic Materials, Industrials and Financials enjoyed a strong month for price action.

The L&G UK Special Situations Trust outperformed against its benchmark in December. Stock selection contributed entirely to the outperformance, with strong performance in Consumer Goods, Basic Materials and Financials. Sector allocation was neutral overall, with weakness from the underweight positioning in Basic Materials being offset by the underweight in Health Care and overweight in Industrials. At the individual stock level, the top performers included Cairn Energy, DS Smith and Prudential. Underperforming names included Energean and RWS Holdings.

In terms of new activity, we entered a number of new positions. These included Direct Line, a personal insurance business benefitting from a depressed claims environment and robust pricing, and information analytics company RELX, a long-term structural compounder.

ENVIRONMENTAL PERFORMANCE

Carbon dioxide (CO₂) is the most significant contributor to greenhouse gas emissions which are driving climate change.

CARBON RESERVES

Carbon reserves are fossil fuels (coal, oil and gas) which, if burnt, will become the carbon emissions of the future. To meet global climate change targets, the unabated use of fossil fuels is expected to decline over time.

The figure is a measure of the size of carbon reserves held by the fund's underlying companies.

CARBON EMISSIONS

Following the global Paris Agreement on climate change, companies in all sectors are expected to reduce their emissions to prepare and adapt for a low-carbon economy.

Carbon emissions intensity describes the relationship between the carbon emissions of a company and its salesⁱⁱ.

NOTES

ⁱ Carbon dioxide equivalent (CO₂e) is a standard unit to compare the emissions of different greenhouse gases.

ⁱⁱ The choice of this metric follows best practice recommendations from the Task Force on Climate-related Financial Disclosures.

KEY RISKS

- The value of an investment and any income taken from it is not guaranteed and can go down as well as up; you may not get back the amount you originally invested.
- The return from this fund is dependent on relatively few individual investments. This means that a fall in the value of an individual investment can have a major impact on the overall performance of the fund.
- The fund could lose money if any institution providing services such as acting as counterparty to derivatives or other instruments, becomes unwilling or unable to meet its obligations to the fund.
- Derivatives are highly sensitive to changes in the value of the asset on which they are based and can increase the size of losses and gains.
- The fund may have underlying investments that are valued in currencies that are different from sterling (British pounds). Exchange rate fluctuations will impact the value of your investment. Currency hedging techniques may be applied to reduce this impact but may not entirely eliminate it.
