What is the product?

Type: This investment fund is a Unit Linked Fund within a life insurance policy.

Objectives: The fund aims to deliver capital growth.

The investment objective of the fund is to provide diversified exposure to UK and overseas equity markets while maintaining an asset distribution which is split approximately 50% UK and 50% overseas assets and minimising currency exposure.

The fund invests in regional equity index funds the objectives of which are to track the performance of their respective benchmarks (less withholding tax where applicable). The overseas regional equity index funds are held in fixed proportions with 17.50% in North America, 17.50% in Europe (ex UK), 8.75% in Japan and 6.25% in Asia Pacific (ex Japan) within a small tolerance. A composite of the underlying indices may be used for performance measurement purposes. The constituents of the underlying indices are global equities, i.e. company shares listed on the relevant stock exchange. The indices are market capitalisation weighted, where the components are weighted according to the total market value of their outstanding shares, representing the FTSE World Equity Index series including advanced emerging markets equities. A pragmatic approach is applied to managing the underlying funds and they will replicate the index within defined risk tolerances. The underlying funds' investments will closely match the index constituents either investing directly in the securities, or indirectly through other LGIM funds. The underlying funds may also hold proxy securities and derivatives (contracts which have a value linked to the price of another asset) such as index and single stock futures for efficient portfolio management i.e. to reduce risk or cost, or to generate additional income with acceptably low level of risk. Currency hedging is employed to protect against exchange rate movements between other developed market currencies, except Israel and where arising from holdings in emerging market securities denominated in developed market currencies (e.g. ADRs/GDRs), and sterling. Currency exposure of any advanced emerging markets will not be hedged. Income from investments (dividends) will be reinvested into the underlying funds.

Intended retail investor: The trustees of UK registered defined benefit or defined contribution occupational pension schemes, which may be classified as either retail clients or professional clients.

What are the risks and what could I get in return?

The summary risk indicator is a guide to the level of risk of this product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the product will lose money because of movements in the markets or because we are not able to pay you.

We have classified this product as class 3 out of 7, which is a medium-low risk class.

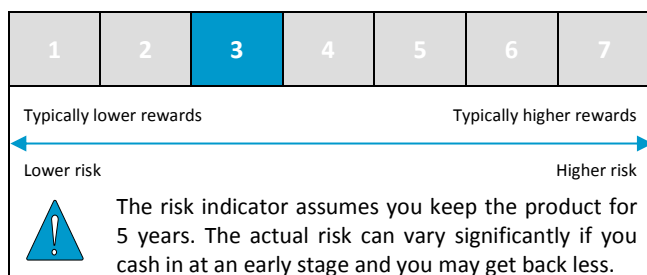

This summary risk indicator is based on historical data which may not be a reliable indication of the fund's risk category in the future.

The category is based on the rate at which the value of the fund has moved up and down in the past.

The fund's category is not guaranteed to remain the same and may change over time.

Even a fund in the lowest category is not a risk free investment.

The value of your investment may fall as well as rise and is not guaranteed. You might get back less than you invest.

The value of the fund may be affected by risks not in the SRI: failure of a counterparty, custodian or issuer; derivative use; emerging markets.

The scenarios shown illustrate how your investment could perform. You can compare them with the scenarios of other products.

The scenarios presented are an estimate of future performance based on evidence from the past on how the value of this investment varies and are not an exact indicator. What you get will vary depending on how the market performs and how long you keep the investment/product.

The stress scenario shows what you might get back in extreme market circumstances and it does not take into account the situation where we are not able to pay you.

The figures shown include the costs of the Fund, but do not include any Policy Charge to be paid (up to 2,250 GBP per annum) or costs that you pay to your advisor or distributor. There is no Policy Charge if the aggregate investments you have within the life insurance policy is over 25,000,000 GBP. The figures do not take into account your personal tax situation, which may also affect how much you get back.

Market developments in the future cannot be accurately predicted. The scenarios shown are only an indication of some of the possible outcomes based on recent returns. Actual returns could be lower.
