FUND MANAGER COMMENTARY

Broadly, it was a strong month for equity markets, as the Growth-Policy trade-off continues to improve. The steady 'risk on' move was led by further progressive negotiations on global trade tariffs between the US and China, with wider optimism that worst case scenarios can be avoided. The ECB is considering its policy remit as inflation continues to undershoot. Economic momentum across the Eurozone remains very much uneven. Elsewhere, Q3 reporting has been and gone, with results not as bad as feared in the context of a difficult macro environment. Global activity and survey readings remain subdued, but the trough of sentiment may now have been passed.

In terms of equity market performance, Growth and Quality styles outperformed Value, though performance was more mixed at the stock level. A narrow range of monthly industry performance means a mixed bag of monthly mega cap leaders, including industrials, banks, technology and medical equipment names. Oil & Gas dominates the laggards.

November was a positive month for absolute and relative performance of the fund. Stocks selection in both Consumer divisions and Basic Materials were material positives. Sector contribution was more mixed, though there was a positive contribution from the overweight in Technology. Leading stock performers included Varta, Moncler, Basic Fit and Adyen. Aluflexpack and Elektro were the main drags. On activity, Prosus was a new name on the portfolio. ArcelorMittal was sold given cyclical growth concerns.

KEY RISKS

- The value of your investment and any income you take from it may fall as well as rise and is not guaranteed. You might get back less than you invest.
- The return from this fund is dependent on relatively few individual investments. This means that a fall in the value of an individual investment can have a major impact on the overall performance of the fund.
- The fund could lose money if any institution providing services such as acting as counterparty to derivatives or other instruments, becomes unwilling or unable to meet its obligations to the fund.
- Derivatives are highly sensitive to changes in the value of the asset on which they are based and can increase the size of losses and gains.
- The fund may have underlying investments that are valued in currencies that are different from sterling (British pounds). Exchange rate fluctuations will impact the value of your investment. Currency hedging techniques may be applied to reduce this impact but may not entirely eliminate it.
