INDEX DESCRIPTION

The Index is comprised of bio-technology companies which are publicly traded on various stock exchanges around the world that are actively engaged in the research, development and manufacture of orphan drugs. An "orphan drug" is a pharmaceutical product that has been developed specifically to treat rare diseases or disorders. A company is only eligible for inclusion in the Index if (1) it is of a sufficient size (determined by reference to the total market value of the proportion of its shares that are publicly traded) and (2) it is sufficiently "liquid" (a measure of how actively its shares are traded on a daily basis).

The universe of companies out of which the Index selection is made is refreshed annually in April. However, the Index is reconstituted semi-annually in April and October in accordance with the full selection criteria and all companies are equally weighted within the Index. On a monthly basis, the weight of each company is assessed and, if any of them exceeds 15% of the Index, the weights of all companies are adjusted so that they are again equally weighted within the Index.

INVESTMENT MANAGER

GO ETF Solutions LLP is the investment manager for each of the exchange traded funds (ETFs) issued by Legal & General UCITS ETF Plc and is responsible for the day-to-day investment management decisions for this ETF. The team is highly experienced with respect to all aspects relating to the management of an ETF portfolio, including collateral management, OTC swap trading, adherence to UCITS regulations and counterparty exposure and monitoring.

KEY RISKS

- The value of an investment and any income taken from it is not guaranteed and can go down as well as up; you may not get back the amount you originally invested.
- An investment in the ETF involves a significant degree of risk. Any decision to invest should be based on the information contained in the relevant prospectus. Prospective investors should obtain their own independent accounting, tax and legal advice and should consult their own professional advisers to ascertain the suitability of the ETF as an investment.
- The value of the shares in the ETF is directly affected by increases and decreases in the value of the Index. Accordingly the value of a share in the ETF may go up or down and a shareholder may lose some or the entire amount invested.
- The ETF's ability to closely track the Index will be affected by its ability to purchase and/or sell the Index constituents and any legal or regulatory restrictions or disruptions affecting them.
- The ETF's ability to closely track the Index will also be affected by transaction costs and taxes incurred when adjusting its investment portfolio generally and/or to mirror any periodic adjustments to the constituents of the Index. There can be no certainty that ETF shares can always be bought or sold on a stock exchange or that the market price at which the ETF shares may be traded on a stock exchange will reflect the performance of the Index.
- The ETF is subject to the risk that third party service providers (such as a bank entering into swaps with the ETF or the ETF's depository) may go bankrupt or fail to pay money due to the ETF or return property belonging to the ETF.
- As the Index includes micro, small and medium-sized publicly traded companies, the ETF is subject to the risk that such companies may be more vulnerable to adverse business or economic events and greater and more unpredictable price changes than larger companies or the stock market as a whole.
- Companies that are actively engaged in the research, development and manufacture of orphan drugs are particularly vulnerable to the risk that, following lengthy and costly development periods, a drug may not ultimately enter into revenue-generating commercial production as a result of: (i) clinical trial failures, (ii) governmental intervention or refusal to grant appropriate approvals and/or licenses for clinical trials or commercial production and/or (iii) a lack of commercial viability. Additionally, the emergence of cheaper or more effective drugs could lead to a decline in the revenues of such companies. Such factors could lead to a decline in the value of the companies represented in the Index and therefore the ETF.
