TAXATION IN THE UK

The following paragraphs, which are intended as a general guide only and do not constitute tax advice, are based on current United Kingdom tax legislation and what is understood to be the current practice of HM Revenue & Customs as at the date of this Supplementary Prospectus. They summarise certain limited aspects of the United Kingdom tax treatment of the Company and Shareholders and relate only to the position of Shareholders who are the absolute beneficial owners of their Shares and who hold their Shares as an investment. They do not apply to certain Classes of Shareholders. Investors who are concerned about the tax consequences of investing should seek their own tax advice from an appropriate adviser.

The Company

The Company is a UCITS scheme established in Luxembourg and so it is not resident in the United Kingdom for United Kingdom taxation purposes. Accordingly, and provided that all its trading transactions (if any) in the United Kingdom are carried out through a broker or investment manager acting within the United Kingdom investment manager exemption, the Company will not be subject to United Kingdom corporation tax or income tax on its profits. The Directors, the Management Company and the Investment Manager each intend that the affairs of the Investment Manager are conducted so that this requirement is met, insofar as this is within their respective control. However, it cannot be guaranteed that the necessary conditions will at all times be satisfied.

Certain interest and other amounts received by the Company which have a United Kingdom source may be subject to withholding or other taxes in the United Kingdom.

Shareholders

Subject to their personal circumstances, Shareholders resident in the United Kingdom for taxation purposes will be liable to United Kingdom income tax or corporation tax in respect of dividends or other distributions of an income nature made by the Company, whether or not such dividends or distributions are reinvested. The nature of the charge to tax in respect of such dividends or distributions will depend on a number of factors which include the composition of the relevant assets of a Fund and the extent of a Shareholder's interest in the Company.

Individual investors in the Funds will need to treat the income distributions they receive from the Funds as interest paid gross for income tax purposes, that is without an attached tax credit, except in the case of the L&G Commodity Index Fund, the L&G Future World Global Equity Focus Fund and, depending on its holdings in the relevant accounting period, the L&G Multi-Asset Target Return Fund. This is because the other Funds' investment policies result in their failing to satisfy the qualifying investments test, or may do so in the case of the L&G Multi-Asset Target Return Fund (details of the qualifying investments test are set out below with reference to corporate investors).

United Kingdom resident basic rate taxpayers are entitled to a personal savings allowance that exempts the first £1,000 of interest. The exempt amount is reduced to £500 for higher rate taxpayers while additional rate taxpayers do not receive an allowance. In addition, any individuals with available starting rate band for savings income will also benefit from a nil rate of tax on the available amount.

Individual investors in the L&G Commodity Index Fund, the L&G Future World Global Equity Focus Fund and, depending on its holdings in the relevant accounting period, the L&G Multi-Asset Target Return Fund should treat any income distributions they receive from them as dividends (paid without a tax credit). United Kingdom individual taxpayers benefit from an annual £2,000 dividend allowance. The applicable tax rates after it is exhausted are 8.75% for basic rate taxpayers, 33.75% for higher rate taxpayers and 39.35% for additional rate taxpayers.

The Offshore Funds (Tax) Regulations 2009 (SI 2009/3001) set out the regime for the taxation of investments in offshore funds (as defined in the United Kingdom Taxation (International and Other Provisions) Act 2010 ("TIOPA 2010")) which operates by reference to whether a fund opts into a reporting regime ("reporting funds") or not ("non-reporting funds").

When reporting fund status has been obtained for any Class of Shares details including (where relevant) the date from which reporting fund status has effect, may be found at <https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/offshore-funds-list-of-reporting-funds> (please note that there is generally a delay of up to two months before newly registered funds are included). The effect of reporting fund status, when obtained, is that investors are taxable on both distributions made to them and on any income retained by the fund (which will be reported to them). However, if the Shareholder realises a gain on disposal, this is then subject to tax on capital gains and is not taxed as income, provided that the reporting fund status was in effect for the whole period for which the Shareholder held the interest on which the gain is realised. The chargeable gain can be reduced in certain circumstances, including where excess reportable income is retained by a Fund.

If an investor who is resident in the United Kingdom for taxation purposes holds an interest in an offshore fund that does not have reporting fund status throughout the period during which the investor holds that interest, any gain accruing to the investor upon the sale, redemption or other disposal of that interest (including a deemed disposal on death) will be taxed at the time of such sale, redemption or other disposal as income ("offshore income gains") and not as a capital gain (subject to the loan relationships regime for United Kingdom corporation tax paying investors described below).

Persons within the charge to United Kingdom corporation tax should note that the regime for the taxation of most corporate debt contained in the United Kingdom Corporation Tax Act 2009 (the "loan relationships regime") provides that, if at any time in an accounting period of such a person, that person holds an interest in an offshore fund within the meaning of the relevant provisions of the Offshore Funds (Tax) Regulations 2009 and TIOPA 2010, and there is a time in that period when that fund fails to satisfy the "qualifying investments" test, the interest held by such a person will be treated for that accounting period as if it were rights under a creditor relationship for the purposes of the loan relationships regime. An offshore fund fails to satisfy the qualifying investments test at any time when more than 60% of its assets by market value (excluding cash awaiting investment) comprise "qualifying investments". Qualifying investments include government and corporate debt securities, cash on deposit, certain derivative contracts and holdings in other collective investment schemes which at any time in the accounting period of the person holding the interest in the offshore fund do not themselves satisfy the qualifying investments test. The Shares will constitute such interests in an offshore fund and on the basis of their investment policies, all the Funds, except L&G Commodity Index Fund and L&G Future World Global Equity Focus, will fail to satisfy the qualifying investments test. The L&G Multi-Asset Target Return Fund may also do so depending on its actual holdings in the accounting period of the investor concerned. Accordingly, all the Shares, except those in the L&G Commodity Index Fund, the L&G Future World Global Equity Focus Fund and, depending on its holdings in the relevant period, the L&G Multi-Asset Target Return Fund, will be treated for corporation tax purposes as within the loan relationships regime with the result that all returns on the Shares in respect of such a person's accounting period (including gains, profits and losses) will be taxed or relieved as an income receipt or expense on a "fair value accounting" basis. Accordingly, a person who acquires such Shares may, depending on its own circumstances, incur a charge to corporation tax on an unrealised increase in the value of its holding of those Shares (and, likewise, obtain relief for an unrealised reduction in the value of its holding of those Shares).

United Kingdom taxpayers liable to United Kingdom corporation tax will be liable to corporation tax on income and chargeable gains on their net proceeds of disposal of their holdings in the L&G Commodity Index Fund, the L&G Future World Global Equity Focus Fund and the L&G Multi-Asset Target Return Fund for any accounting period of the corporate investor concerned in which that Fund fails to satisfy the "qualifying investments" test at any time in that accounting period depending on whether the Class of Shares have reporting fund status throughout the investor's period of ownership.

Anti-avoidance

Individuals resident in the United Kingdom for taxation purposes should note that Chapter 2 of Part 13 of the United Kingdom Income Tax Act 2007 contains anti-avoidance provisions dealing with the transfer of assets to overseas persons that may in certain circumstances render such individuals liable to taxation in respect of undistributed income profits of the Company.

Persons resident in the United Kingdom for taxation purposes should note the provisions of section 3 of the United Kingdom Taxation of Chargeable Gains Act 1992 ("section 3"), previously section 13 of that Act. Section 3 could be material to any such person who has an interest in a Fund as a "participator" for United Kingdom taxation purposes (which term includes a shareholder) at a time when any gain accrues to the Fund (such as on a disposal of any of its investments) which constitutes a chargeable gain or an offshore income gain if, at the same time, the Fund is itself controlled in such a manner and by a sufficiently small number of persons as (if it were a company) to render the Fund a body corporate that would, were it to have been resident in the United Kingdom for taxation purposes, be a "close" company for those purposes. The provisions of section 3 would result in any such person who is a Shareholder being treated for the purposes of United Kingdom taxation as if a part of any chargeable gain or offshore income gain accruing to the Fund had accrued to that person directly, that part being equal to the proportion of the gain that corresponds to that person's proportionate interest in the Fund. No liability under section 3 could be incurred by such a person, however, in respect of a chargeable gain or an offshore income gain accruing to the Fund if the aggregate proportion of that gain that could be attributed under section 3 both to that person and to any persons connected with him for United Kingdom taxation purposes does not exceed one-quarter of the gain. In the case of Shareholders who are individuals domiciled outside the United Kingdom, section 3 applies subject to the remittance basis in particular circumstances.

Companies resident in the United Kingdom for taxation purposes should note the "controlled foreign companies" legislation contained in Part 9A of TIOPA 2010 (the "CFC rules"). The CFC rules could be material to any company that has an interest in the Fund if the Fund is controlled (as "control" is defined in section 371RA of TIOPA 2010) by persons (whether companies, individuals or others) who are resident in the United Kingdom for taxation purposes or is controlled by two persons taken together, one of whom is resident in the United Kingdom for tax purposes and has at least 40% of the interests, rights and powers by which those persons control the Fund, and the other of whom has at least 40% and not more than 55% of such interests, rights and powers. The effect of the CFC rules could be to render such companies liable to United Kingdom corporation tax by reference to the "chargeable profits" of the Fund. The chargeable profits of a Fund do not include any capital gains.

Transfer taxes

Transfers of Shares will not be liable to United Kingdom stamp duty unless the instrument of transfer is executed within the United Kingdom when the transfer will be liable to United Kingdom ad valorem stamp duty at the rate of 0.5% of the consideration paid rounded up to the nearest £5. No United Kingdom stamp duty reserve tax is payable on transfers of Shares, or agreements to transfer Shares.

General diversity of ownership

Currently, the intended category of investors for the Classes registered in the United Kingdom are institutional investors. The Shares in them will be widely available and marketed and made available sufficiently widely to reach their intended market and in a manner appropriate to attract investors.

International tax reporting (including U.S. FATCA)

The Company is required to report information about investors' holdings in the Funds to the Luxembourg tax authority, in order for it to pass certain information to the shareholder's tax authorities under various automatic exchange of information regimes.

Luxembourg law currently requires reporting in respect of FATCA (the U.S. Foreign Account and Tax Compliance Act) and in respect of the EU Directive on Administrative Compliance and the OECD multilateral agreement to automatically exchange information under the Common Reporting Standard. Please see the Prospectus for further details.
