FUND MANAGER COMMENTARY

Despite seeing a return of global growth worries and a sharp move on bond markets, equities have broadly brushed aside these concerns. Amid mixed activity readings and (more) Brexit drama, the UK equity market has taken newsflow in its stride. Importantly, for the UK consumer, labour market data remains resilient despite recent softness in surveys.

Overall, it has been another good month for risk assets, albeit on light trading volumes. In March, we had the unusual combination of rising markets with defensive leadership. Large-caps were the size winners as value underperformed. The strength of the FTSE 100 was spurred on by strong gains in consumer staples, resources and telecoms. Notably, UK miners made both short and long term relative highs. On the flipside, financials, utilities and leisure stocks were out of favour.

Turning to fund performance, we saw the portfolio deliver a return of 1.0%, compared against the index return of 2.7%. Both stock selection and sector allocation were negative in the period. Our exposure in consumer services and resources detracted value. Meanwhile, on allocation, our underweight in consumer goods was detrimental. At the stock level, our active positions of Cairn Energy, Carnival, GVC and Xaar were the biggest detractors. Whilst not owning British American Tobacco, Diageo and Rio Tinto was a further headwind. Turning to positives, Energean Oil & Gas, Blue Prism and Jupiter all added value.

On activity, we increased our holding of Consort Medical. Urban & Civic and Ophir Energy were both reduced.

KEY RISKS

- The value of an investment and any income taken from it is not guaranteed and can go down as well as up. You may not get back the amount you originally invested.
- The return from this fund is dependent on relatively few individual investments. This means that a fall in the value of an individual investment can have a major impact on the overall performance of the fund.
- The fund could lose money if any institution providing services such as acting as counterparty to derivatives or other instruments, becomes unwilling or unable to meet its obligations to the fund.
- Derivatives are highly sensitive to changes in the value of the asset on which they are based and can increase the size of losses and gains.
- The fund may have underlying investments that are valued in currencies that are different from sterling (British pounds). Exchange rate fluctuations will impact the value of your investment. Currency hedging techniques may be applied to reduce this impact but may not entirely eliminate it.
