FUND MANAGER COMMENTARY

Equity markets continued their positive year-to-date trajectory with most regions closing June at or close to record highs. The pullback in long-term government bond yields and decline in market-derived inflation expectations has been helpful in removing potential equity valuation headwinds. While it is speculated that we are now close to the peak in activity indicators and the Fed moving closer to tapering, we believe that the market is likely comfortable with the notion that growth will remain above trend in the second half of the year. The June ECB policy meeting prompted a change of statement. Both GDP and CPI projections were raised for this year and next.

In a month of favourable performance for the fund, we saw investors rotate back towards growth stocks as long-term rates fell, while doubts over the relaxation of Covid-19 restrictions have hurt the reopening plays. At the sector level, Healthcare, Technology, Consumer Staples and Telecoms outperformed. Utilities, Financials and Consumer Discretionary industries were the laggards.

The L&G European Trust delivered a positive return and outperformed its benchmark by 120bps. Stock selection and sector allocation both made a positive contribution. On allocation, the overweight to Industrials and underweight to Financials added most value. For selection we saw the biggest positive from within Industrial Goods & Services. In terms of individual names, Bike24, Zalando, SOITEC, Cellnex, Alfen and Aluflexpack all outperformed and made a healthy contribution to relative returns. On the flipside, Nacon and Philips underperformed. For activity we added new positions in NX Filtration and Bike24 following recent IPOs.

KEY RISKS

- The value of an investment and any income taken from it is not guaranteed and can go down as well as up; you may not get back the amount you originally invested.
- The return from this fund is dependent on relatively few individual investments. This means that a fall in the value of an individual investment can have a major impact on the overall performance of the fund.
- The fund could lose money if any institution providing services such as acting as counterparty to derivatives or other instruments, becomes unwilling or unable to meet its obligations to the fund.
- Derivatives are highly sensitive to changes in the value of the asset on which they are based and can increase the size of losses and gains.
- The fund may have underlying investments that are valued in currencies that are different from sterling (British pounds). Exchange rate fluctuations will impact the value of your investment. Currency hedging techniques may be applied to reduce this impact but may not entirely eliminate it.
