Performance source: Lipper. NAV to NAV, gross income reinvested. Performance has been calculated over the stated period on the share price performance basis, based on the Z share class and net of fees. Past performance is not a guide to future performance. This fund has adopted a single swinging price, this means that on any given day the single dealing price will be set at either bid, offer or somewhere in between, based on whether there was a net inflow or outflow into or out of the Fund. The past performance depicted in this factsheet is based on that dealing price and therefore may appear more volatile than it would otherwise be if we were to show the notional bid or offer performance, this is as a result of the daily swing.

The eligibility for the Z share class is restricted and may require a separate fee agreement with LGIM. Please contact us to discuss share class eligibility.

COMMENTARY

September was another strong month across all regions within high yield. A number of factors contributed to this: robust economic data, low inflation and the continued demand for yield from investors across the globe. Equity markets also ended the month higher, while credit spreads finished tighter, with strong inflows for risky assets.

The fund outperformed the benchmark in September. The fund is positioned with a yield that is higher yield than the benchmark index, with an overweight in single B rated bonds to take advantage of macroeconomic conditions. Portfolio performance has benefited so far this year from our overweight to emerging markets, where we still see the best opportunities along with lower-rated European bonds. As a result of this, we maintain our underweight to North American high yield bonds.

Looking ahead, we believe the economic environment is supportive for high yield companies, with continued steady growth across all regions, combined with low financing costs and many sectors having de-levered. A low yield environment and subdued inflation should help central banks act slowly with any monetary tightening policy and ensure that the market is well prepared for any move in short-term rates. We believe that default rates should stay low and that overall downside risk is therefore diminishing. Allied to a suppression of yields globally, this is likely to continue to increase investors' desire to seek higher income.
