FUND MANAGER COMMENTARY

Investors may have been awaiting further guidance from the G20 summit, but they were clearly in the mood to accentuate any potential positive outcome. Having closed June with pre-G20 optimism, there was great hope of positive progress in bilateral discussions between Presidents Trump and Xi on US-China trade relations. Meanwhile, the growth-policy trade-off remains supportive of equities, mostly driven by dovish central bank messaging from the ECB and the Fed.

Asia Pacific ex Japan equities had a strong month, rising 5.2% in June. China outperformed on hopes of diminished trade tension. Hong Kong performed slightly ahead of the region, as the brokers and exchanges rallied on improved liquidity. Australia moderately underperformed, as strength in financials was offset by weakness in consumer discretionary. Singapore was the leading performer within ASEAN, as financials rallied on better prospects for loan growth and property related names rallied on lowered interest rate expectations. India was the worst performing region, as investors digested poor economic data.

For the fund, the Asian Income Trust reported solid performance during June in light of the underperformance of value relative to growth. Selection and the underweight allocation in China and Korea was detrimental, given their cyclical and tech focus. Meanwhile stock selection in Australia was also negative. On the flipside, our underweight in India added value and selection in Taiwan was positive. Not owning Samsung and Alibaba were the biggest headwinds. Qantas, Downer and Fletcher Builder were also weak performers. Positives included Catcher Technology, Intouch, United Overseas Bank and Transurban.

PAUL HILLSLEY

Paul joined LGIM in 2006 and is the lead fund manager for the Asian income portfolios. He has managed the Asian Income Trust since its inception. He began his investment career in 1991 at Phillips and Drew Fund Management, now called UBS Global Asset Management, and developed broad experience across UK, Europe, Japan and, predominantly, Asia ex Japan, over subsequent years. At LGIM Paul launched the Asian Income Trust in November 2008 and in 2013 formed the Global Income Team which, together with Andrew Koch, Stephen Message and Veeral Gandhi forms the core of the firm's equity income expertise. He read engineering, economics and management at Lincoln College, Oxford University, and is an associate of the Society of Investment Professionals.

KEY RISKS

- The value of an investment and any income taken from it is not guaranteed and can go down as well as up. You may not get back the amount you originally invested.
- The fund could lose money if any institution providing services such as acting as counterparty to derivatives or other instruments, becomes unwilling or unable to meet its obligations to the fund.
- Derivatives are highly sensitive to changes in the value of the asset on which they are based and can increase the size of losses and gains.
- The fund may have underlying investments that are valued in currencies that are different from sterling (British pounds). Exchange rate fluctuations will impact the value of your investment. Currency hedging techniques may be applied to reduce this impact but may not entirely eliminate it.
- We may take some or all of the ongoing charges from the fund’s capital rather than the fund’s income. This increases the amount of income, but it reduces the growth potential and may lead to a fall in the value of the fund.
