FUND CHARACTERISTICS

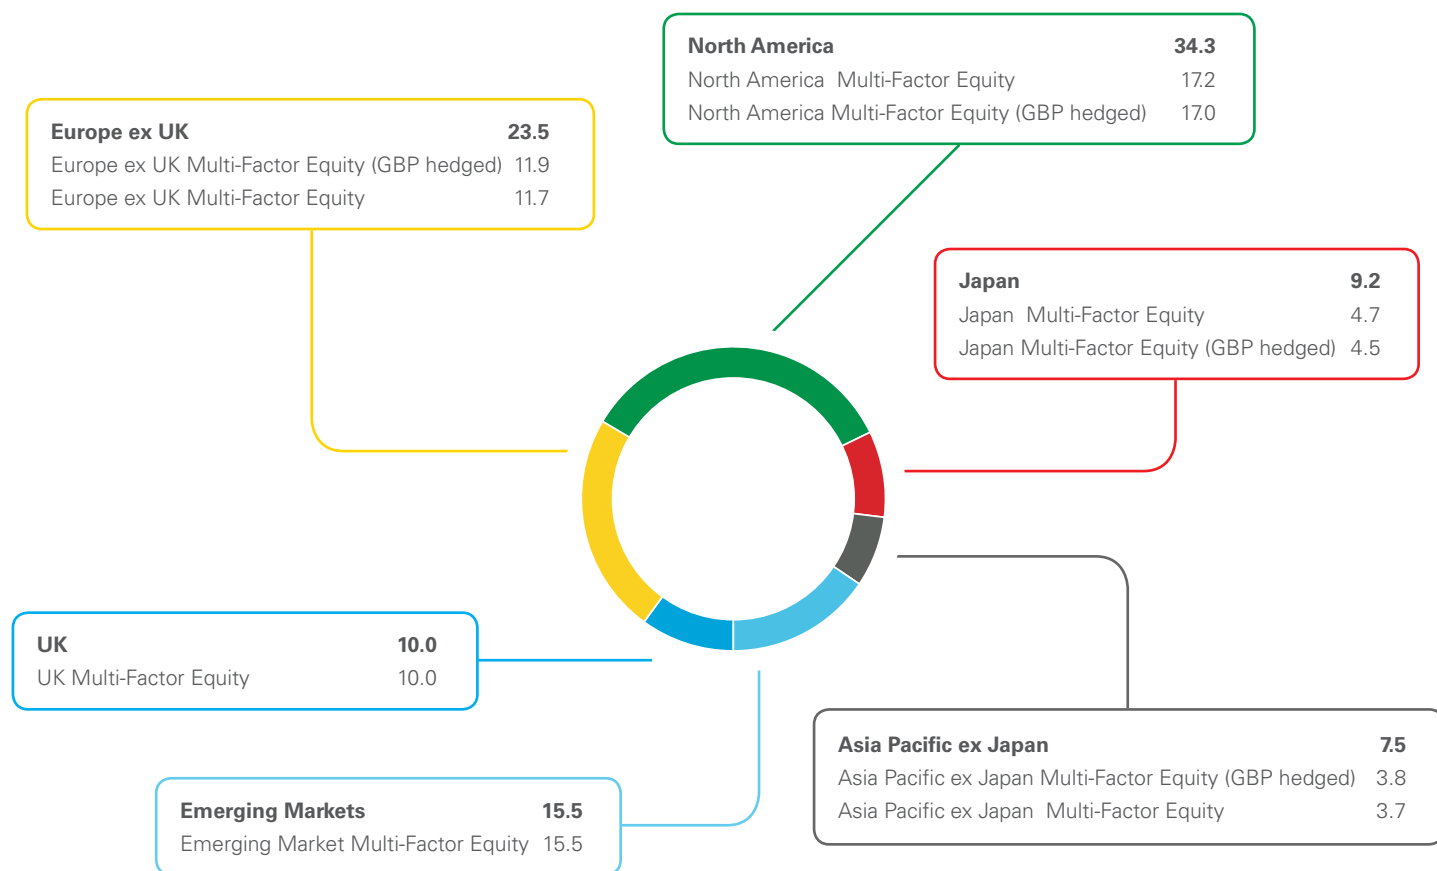

The fund will be fully invested in equities that exhibit the characteristics of certain equity risk factors that have been shown to be rewarded over the long term. The fund will gain exposure by investing in regional multi-factor building blocks. The regional allocation will be reviewed periodically (at least annually) and the fund will not take short term, tactical asset allocation positions. Derivatives may be used within the underlying funds for efficient portfolio management.

Comparator note

We show the Fund's performance against a comparator of 33% FTSE North America Index (50% GBP hedged), 52% FTSE Developed ex North America Index (50% GBP hedged) and 15% FTSE Emerging Index, which broadly reflects the regional allocation and hedging of the fund as the fund targets multiple factors with the aim of improving returns versus similar regionally-weighted market- capitalisation indices while reducing stock-level concentration.

FUND MANAGER COMMENTARY

The Diversified Multi-Factor Equity Fund was up 2.2% in the third quarter of 2019, finishing ahead of its comparator of market-cap equities with a similar regional weighting which gained 2.0%.

This brings the fund's return since inception to 7.1% per annum, which is in line with the comparator although the fund achieved this return with relatively lower volatility.

As market-cap equities continued to rally during the quarter and sterling depreciated on the perceived increased likelihood of a hard Brexit, the fund's lower market exposure (as measured by beta) and our hedging policy detracted from the overall fund performance.

After adjusting for the lower beta of the fund, in aggregate the returns from factors were positive, and more than made up the drag from the fund's more defensive character.

Quality had a mixed performance during the third quarter, with positive performance in all regions apart from Europe. High Profitability was the main drag in Europe, but saw strong returns in other regions. Low-volatility stocks outperformed in the US and Europe, but detracted in other regions. At first, value stocks continued to struggle but in the UK, the US, and Europe they recovered most of their losses in September and ended the quarter roughly flat.

KEY RISKS

- The value of an investment and any income taken from it is not guaranteed and can go down as well as up. You may get back less than the amount you originally invested.
- The return from your investment is not guaranteed and therefore you may receive a lower or higher return than you anticipated. There will be a variation in performance between funds with similar objectives due to the different assets selected.
- PMC's charges and associated transaction costs are subject to change, with notice for the former and without notice for the latter. Charges and transactions costs deducted from the policy reduce your potential for capital growth in the future.
- Tax rules and the treatment of income and capital gains could change in the future and may be applied retrospectively.
- Inflation reduces the purchasing power of money over time as the cost of purchasing goods and services increases. If the rate of inflation exceeds the rate of return on your portfolio, it will erode the value of your portfolio and its investments in real terms.
- In extreme market conditions it may be difficult to realise assets held for a fund and it may not be possible to redeem units at short notice. We may have to delay acting on your instructions to sell or the price at which you cancel the units may be lower than you anticipated.
- The value of a fund's assets may be affected by uncertainties such as international political developments, market sentiment, economic conditions, changes in government policies, restrictions on foreign investment and currency repatriation, currency fluctuations and other developments in the laws and regulations of countries in which investment may be made.
- PMC seeks to mitigate counterparty risk wherever possible on behalf of its policyholders through a variety of measures which include: each fund's non-cash assets being held with independent custodians, sweeping cash (where appropriate) overnight into the LGIM's range of Liquidity funds (above a deminimus level), using the delivery versus payment system when settling transactions and the use of central clearing for exchange traded derivatives and forward foreign exchange transactions. However, in the event of the failure of a counterparty, custodian or issuer there is a residual risk that a fund may suffer asset losses which are unrecoverable.
