FUND MANAGER COMMENTARY

In what was a risk-on environment, European equities advanced in April, delivering its best monthly performance in 2018. Corporate earnings drove equity markets as fading political risks and M&A activity spurred investor appetite. Meanwhile, despite a much talked about slowdown in economic momentum for some of the key macro datapoints, the Eurozone growth remains robust and in expansion territory. Given the more measured pace, we expect no hasty policy response from the ECB. Eurozone business and sentiment indicators have dipped slightly, but remain consistent with long-term trend rates of growth.

The Oil & Gas sector was a leading performer, as Brent Crude oil neared $80. Elsewhere, we saw good performance from telecoms and consumer services. It was also a good period for luxury goods suppliers, following strong results. On the flipside, Healthcare, Industrials and Consumer Goods were relative underperformers. Finally, selected auto stocks continue to be out of favour. At a country level, Italy and France saw outperformance.

For L&G European Growth, we saw 70bps relative underperformance to the benchmark. Stock selection proved to be the biggest drag, with AMS and Kion Group the largest individual detractors, which made up all of the underperformance. On sector allocation, the lack of oil exposure proved to be a negative factor. Meanwhile country positioning was broadly neutral. Turning to positives, Ubisoft, Maisons Du Monde and Scout24 all added decent value.

GAVIN LAUNDER

Gavin joined LGIM in 2007 and is a Fund Manager within the High Alpha team for Europe ex-UK portfolios. He joined LGIM from BlueBay Asset Management where he was a Global Equities Analyst. Gavin spent the majority of his buy-side career as a Portfolio Manager with UBS O'Connor. Prior to this, he was a top-rated, sell-side analyst covering the Autos, Capital Goods and Conglomerates sectors at investment banks including SG Warburg (now part of UBS) and Goldman Sachs. Gavin holds a degree in Philosophy and Economics from University College, London.

KEY RISKS

- The return from this fund is dependent on relatively few individual investments. This means that a fall in the value of an individual investment can have a major impact on the overall performance of the fund.
- The fund could lose money if any institution providing services such as acting as counterparty to derivatives or other instruments, becomes unwilling or unable to meet its obligations to the fund.
- Derivatives are highly sensitive to changes in the value of the asset on which they are based and can increase the size of losses and gains.
- The fund may have underlying investments that are valued in currencies that are different from sterling (British pounds). Any such investments will be impacted by exchange rate fluctuations and this may affect the value of your investment and any income from it. Currency hedging techniques may be applied to reduce the impact of exchange rate fluctuations but may not entirely eliminate it.
